New website

In September 2008, we completed work on our new website. We have now listed about 4,000 books and are adding more as we progress. Our catalogue customers will still have first chance to obtain new stock, but the internet allows us to display these books with photographs in many cases to a worldwide audience. If you would like to view our website, its address is www.ardenbooks.co.uk Any feedback would be welcome.

Antiquarian Booksellers Association – June Bookfair

We became members of the ABA in October last year and will be exhibiting at their June bookfair later this year from Thursday 4th June to Saturday 6th June. It will be held at Olympia 2 Exhibition Centre, Hammersmith Road, Kensington, London.

Welsh Beekeepers' Association – Annual Convention 2009

We will be exhibiting at the above convention on Saturday 28th March, where we will bring a wide range of new, antiquarian and second-hand books. We will also have a small selection of other natural history books.

Next New Naturalists

Wildfowl, by David Cabot which is No. 110 in the series is expected to be published in May this year. The in-print price will be £50.00. Our price to catalogue customers will be £45.00.

We are also expecting to take delivery of Dartmoor, by Ian Mercer in August this year. The in-print price will be £50.00. Our price for catalogue customers is £45.00.

This catalogue represents a small selection of recently purchased collections. We carry a large stock of Natural History & Gardening books in our shop. If you require a particular title in our subjects, please call us.

Payment of invoices in STERLING please. We accept Visa, Mastercard & Eurocard, but only when placing your order. Cards may not be used to pay an invoice at a later date. We do not accept American Express credit cards. All postage on books is extra.

We are always interested in purchasing large or small collections in our specialist subject area and are quite happy to travel to view.

Botany

1. Allan, B. & Woods, P. Wild Orchids of Scotland. Pub. HMSO. 1993 pp.135 with many superb coloured photographs, keys and line drawings. Nr. fine copy in dw. [36018] £35.00

This is a very well produced volume with some superb photographs. Sadly, no longer in print. The combination of keys, line drawings and photographs greatly assists identification.

2. Andre', Edouard Francois. Bromeliaceae Andreanae. An Accounting of His Explorations & Collections in Columbia, Ecuador & Venezuela. 1st. Pub. Big Bridge Press. 1983 pp.xxxiii, 211 with 40 plates. A fine limited edition of 600 copies of which this is no. 560. [35567] £100.00
3. Atchley, S.C. Wild Flowers of Attica. 1st. Pub. O.U.P. 1938 pp.xix, 60 with 21 coloured plates. Sm. folio. Vg. with light foxing to eps. A useful reference book to the flowers of Greece. [36013] £20.00
4. Baines, H. The Flora of Yorkshire. Pub. Longman. 1840 pp.xvi, 159 with 2 plates. A little foxed on end pages. New green cloth boards and end papers. [30111] £30.00
5. Baumann, H. Greek Wild Flowers. and plant lore in ancient Greece. Pub. Herbert. 1993 pp. 252 with many colour photographs and supporting b/w. figs. Fine in fine dw. Scarce. [36027] £45.00
This work was translated and augmented from the original German text by William T. Stearn and Eldwyth Ruth Stearn. Greece is far richer in flowers than any other European country, with more than 6,000 species as against 2,300 in the British Isles. These plants because they are virtually the same as those which existed at the time of Homer, provide a direct link with the world of the ancient Greeks. The close relationship between plants and man in that period is evident in the Greek myths, in the way flowers and climbing plants inspired Greek art, in the use of plants in medicine and the importance of certain plants in the ancient economy.
6. Beekman, E.M. Rumphius Orchids. Georgius Everhardus Rumphius. Pub. Yale. 2003 pp.xlix, 172 with illus. Fine in fine dw. [35545] £12.50
Rumphius (1627-1702), founder of Indonesian botanical exploration and one of the greatest naturalists of the seventeenth century, was the first to describe tropical orchids in a Western language. Within the pages of his monumental seven-volume Ambonese Herbal, written in Dutch, he included descriptions of 36 species of orchids found on the island of Ambon in eastern Indonesia, plus 12 uncertified ones. His detailed descriptions reflect both the accuracy of a scientist and the sensibility of a poet. This book is the first to translate into English all the sections of Rumphius' Ambonese Herbal devoted to Orchids.
7. Bianchini, F. & Corbetta, F. The Fruits of the Earth. 1st. Pub. in English by Cassell. 1975 pp.303 with 110 paintings by the Italian artist Marilena Pistoia. A fine copy in dw. [35655] £35.00
This book is a celebration of the extraordinary varied world of fruits and vegetables, offering some superb colour plates. The authors give the origin of approximately 400 plants, examining the areas in which they flourish, their uses and composition, their relation to nutrition and health.
8. Binz, A. and Thommen, E. Flore de la Suisse. y compris les parties limitrophes de l'Ain et de la Savoie. Pub. Griffon. 1966 pp.xxxiii, 393. VG. in sunned boards. [35855] £10.00
9. Blunt, W. & W.T. Stearn. The Art of Botanical Illustration. Pub. Antique Collectors' Club. 1994 pp.368 with 125 coloured plates and many text figs. A fine copy of this out of print book. [36062] £45.00
This edition revised and enlarged by William Stearn with a greatly extended chapter on 20th century. Still a must for the serious botanical artist.
10. Brewis, A. et al. The Flora of Hampshire. 1st. Pub. Harley Books. 1996 pp.xii. 386 with some b/w. and colour plates and distribution maps throughout the text. Slightly sunned spine o/w. vg. copy in card covers. [35729] £20.00
This book contains over 1750 species of vascular plants. Non-indigenous species, as well as their subspecies, varieties and hybrids. It also includes condensed accounts of the 590 Lichen and 459 bryophyte taxa to be found in the county.
11. Britten, James. European Ferns. with coloured illustrations from Nature. Pub. Cassell, Petter, Galpin & Co. 1890 pp.vii, 196. Green half-calf binding with gilt tooling. One inch split to top of hinge front and rear o/w a very tight and robust binding. A little foxing to some pages. Plates clean. A handsome copy. [29252] £200.00
12. Bullock, A.A. Bibliography of South African Botany. (Up to 1951). Pub. Dept. of Agric. Pretoria. 1978 pp.iv, 194. Fine in card covers. [30436] £12.00
13. Burton, R.M. Flora of the London Area. Pub. London Nat. Hist. Soc. 1983 pp. xxii, 225 with many text figs. Fine quarto vol. in illus. boards. [36006] £15.00
14. Campbell, B.M. A Classification of the Mountain Vegetation. Pub. Mem. Bot. Sur. of S. Africa. No.50. 1985 pp.vi, 121 with plates and fold-out tables. VG. in card covers. [30766] £12.00
15. Campbell-Culver, M. A Passion for Trees. The Legacy of John Evelyn. Pub. Eden Project Books. 2006 pp. 282, with colour plates and illus. Fine copy in fine dw. [35513] £20.00
Evelyn's work speaks to us as much now as it did to his contemporaries; as his influence echoes down the centuries, he emerges as a precursor of the present-day environmental movement.

16. Campo, C. Gomez & Colaboradores, Y. Libro Rojo De Especies Vegetales Amenazadas De Las Islas Canarias. 1st. Pub. Canarias. 1996 pp.663 with 14 coloured photos. A little distortion to the first few pages of text due to damp o/w vg.pbk. copy. [35802] £25.00

Quaker George Stacey Gibson (1818-83) was a botanist, banker and renowned benefactor. Distinguished in his many pursuits, he also corresponded with Charles Darwin. In this copy of 'The Flora of Essex', G.S Gibson wrote the following dedication on the title page 'Presented by the Author G.S. Gibson to F.(?).Brocas Dec. 1873' which seems to have been underlined or crossed through. Further, a three sided letter from G.S. Gibson (dated April 18 1874) provides his thoughts on how well suited Frederick Brocas would be to helping those engaged in botanical pursuits, the last paragraph of the letter reading 'He has a real pleasure in this kind of work and would I believe use every exertion to give satisfaction to any who may be disposed to patronize him'. In this letter, Gibson also makes reference to a 'respectful and trustworthy' Mrs. Brocas.

'The third edition appeared in April 1861, 2,000 copies being printed. The case is similar to that of the two previous editions, but differing in small details. The contents were extensively altered, and is of interest for the addition of a table of differences between it and the second edition, a table which occurs in each subsequent edition, and also for the addition of the historical sketch. This sketch, which was written to satisfy complaints that Darwin had not sufficiently considered his predecessors in the general theory of evolution, had already appeared in a shorter form in the first German edition, as well as in the fourth American printing where it is called a preface; both of these appeared in 1860. There is also a postscript on page xii. This concerns a review of the earlier editions by Asa Gray which had appeared in the Atlantic Monthly in 1860, and as a pamphlet paid for by Darwin, in 1861. This edition has one leaf of advertisements which is part of the book.' Freeman.

Moths of Australia is the first comprehensive book to cover the enormous diversity of Australian moths, summarizing our knowledge of them and presenting much original work by this foremost of lepidopterists. More than 1000 of the 10,000 named Australian species are represented in colour or half tone photographs. Up-to-date nomenclature adds to the wealth of information on distribution, larval food plants and behaviour.

The only autobiography of the distinguished naturalist, Derek Ratcliffe who died in 2006. Born in 1929, the book tells the tale of his life from boyhood, when his interest in birds, butterflies, moths and dragonflies started to develop, through to the period in his life before 1970. Ratcliffe took the opportunity presented by writing this book of paying tribute to some of the people who helped him along the way and became lifelong friends. Among his publications are the two books published by Poyser, namely 'The Peregrine' and 'Lapland'. He wrote 'Lakeland' in the New Naturalist Series and 'Birds of Mountain and Upland' published by Cambridge University Press. In his early life he worked as a Botanist in the Nature Conservancy Council and was editor of the Nature Conservancy Review published in 1977.

The authors assert that for animal signals to be effective they must be reliable, and to be reliable they must impose a cost, or handicap, on the signaler. Many animal signals enhances the individuals prestige within the group or to demonstate to a would be predator the excellent physical condition it is in. They extend this handicap theory to human behaviour eg. tones of voice, body postures and facial expressions.
